THE OREGON LAND COMPANY

Has just purchased 287 acres, situated from three to four and one-half miles east of Salem, which they will immediately plat and survey and sell in Ten Acre Lots.

This land has been carefully selected with especial reference to its adaptability to fruit raising and desirability for residence purposes, and Each Lot will Front on a Good Road and Have a Good Front Fence.

The time for the residents of Salem to buy ten acres of choice land near the city very cheap will soon be past. The OREGON LAND COMPANY alone sold during August twenty-six ten acre fruit lots, and some of the same lots have already Been re-sold at a HANDSOME ADVANCE IN PRICE.

There are many persons in Salem who could buy one of these lots and pay for it without inconvenience. In fact any person receiving even a small salary can buy one of these lots by making a small cash payment, and paying the remainder in semi-annual installments, and by practicing a little economy for a short time be the owner of a property which can be made (when set to fruit) to produce

As Large an Income as is Obtained from 100 Acres of Grain Land.

The value of these lots is not dependent upon any prospective boom, but depends upon what they will actually produce now, and what that product will now bring in the market.

If You are Thinking of Securing a Home

If You Want to Save a Part of Your Earnings

And at the same time make a first-class investment buy one of these lots on the installment plan.

One Black Drop.

Byron was wise when he wrote,
"a drop of ink may make a million think." This is indeed true when the black fluid is used to enlighten the world on the merits of Dr.
Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.
Let consumptives everywhere hear the glad tidings. Try it all, who breathe with pain and toss in fever through the long night hours.
You will find the cough gone and sleep as balmy as a child's will visit your pillow. You will thank the drop of ink that brought the message of mercy to you.

$500 Reward.

So confident are the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy in their ability to cure chronic nasal catarrh, no matter how bad or of how long standing, that they offer, in good faith, the above reward for a case which they cannot cure.

Come and See for Yourself

A CONFESSION.

Do you remember, little wife,
How years ago we two together,
Saw naught but love illumine life In sunny days or winter weather?

Do you recall in younger years To part a day was bitter pain?
Love's light was hid in clouds of tears Till meeting cleared the sky again.

Do you remember how we two Would stare into each other's eyes, Till all the earth grew heavenly blue And speech was lost in happy sighs?

Do you another thing recall,
That used to happen often then;
How, simply passing in the hall, We'd stop to smile and kiss again?

Do you remember how I sat
And, reading, held your hand in mine, Caresing it with gentle pat-One pat for every blessed line?

Do you recall how at the play Through hours of agony we tarried?
The lovers' griefs brought us dismay;
Oh, we rejoiced when they were married.

And then walked homeward arm in arm, Beneath the crescent moonlit new,
That smiled on us with silent charm;
So glad that we were married too.

Ah, me, 'twas years and years ago When all this happened that I sing,
And many a time the winter snow Has slipped from olive slopes of spring.

And now - oh nonsense! let us tell;
A fig for laugh of maids or men!
You'll hide your blushes? I'll not. Well - We're ten times worse than we were then.

-W. J. Henderson in Sept. Century.

THAT VICIOUS OLD BUCKET.

How fresh in my mind are the scenes of my childhood, As fond recollections present them to view -

The cow stall, the pig pen, the ten cords of firewood,
All the tough chores that I had to go through.

The weeds in the garden, the stones in the stable,
The errands to run and the white beans to shell;

And (when I'd already a surplus of trouble),
The bucket that viciously dropped in the well -

The rotten roped bucket, the iron bound bucket,
The confounded bucket that dropped in the well.

After trudging all day in the wake of a barrow,
The team I must water ere getting my grub;

Cross, footsore and tired clear into the marrow,
I'd seize on the windlass to fill up the tub.
So downward that bucket demurely moandered,

And then with bard lugging it "rope from the well,"
But ere I could dump it the rope had disbanded,

And spang to the bottom the "fatal thing fell!"

Then with grapples and "creepers" and like bothersations, I bent o'er the well like a capital A,
And mingling my tears with devout invocations

I sprinkled them down as I angled away.

How it caught - and slipped off - and at last caught securely!

I pulled with a joy that my words cannot tell;

And I hugged, not from love, but to hold it more surely,

The mud covered bucket that rose from
the well.

The slippery old bucket, the rotten roped
bucket,

The mud covered bucket that rose from
the well.

He Enjoyed Water.

"Ah, that is nice and refreshing," said Billy Bliven as he set down the soup at the boarding house table.

"I am glad you like it," said the landlady.

"Yes," replied Billy, enthusiastically.
"If there is anything I do enjoy it's a big, refreshing draft of pure water."

A Hint to Puffy People.

From their arrival on this planet to their usually early departure from it, people of weak constitutions and angular physiques pass a sort of half-existence. Like dormice they burrow in their home retreats, afraid of heat, afraid of cold, constantly afraid that the shadow of the dread reaper will materialize and exact the forfeit which he demands of all, sooner or later. No finer medicinal assurance of comparative vigor for the feeble exists than that afforded by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Used with persistence - not with spurts and spasms - this genial and professionally commended tonic will do much toward infusing strength into a puny system, and rounding off scrappy angles in the human figure. Appetite, nerve tranquility and nightly repose are encouraged by it, and a malarial, rheumatic bilious tendency overcomes. It re-establishes digestion and prevents kidney troubles.
